

The following are just a few of the programs and services that are made possible by your donations:

Putnam Adult Literacy Services \(PALS\)

PALS is a new program that will support and promote adult literacy through access to resources, tutoring, and improving information literacy skills throughout Putnam County.

PALS Pups

PALS Pups is a read-to-a-dog program that provides a safe, nonthreatening environment for new or struggling readers to practice reading aloud. Dogs in this program are companions of staff members, have been fully trained, and have been awarded their Canine Good Citizen certification.

PCPL Archives

The PCPL archives provides archival preservation of local history collections, personal collections, and family histories to ensure that these invaluable documents will survive for posterity.

Public Scanning Room

The public scanning room is a high-tech scanning center open to the public, with staff to provide personalized instruction on the use of the equipment.

Live Local, Think Global Environmental series

This program series offers speakers, films, and discussion on local and global environmental issues.

STEAM Powered Wednesdays

This monthly program provides children with the opportunity to tinker, make, and create. Each event explores a new aspect of science, technology, engineering, art, and math.

LibrarYoga

Certified yoga instructors guide yoga practitioners of all skill levels in this weekly, hour-long class.

Time Travelin' Genealogy Guild \(TTGG\)

The TTGG meets monthly to discuss genealogy methods and resources and provides support to local genealogists, both amateur and professional.

Our Mission

“The Putnam County Public Library strives to connect its users through the shared acquisition of knowledge, the cultivation of curiosity, and an ongoing engagement with the world around them by promoting and supporting all forms of literacy, creativity, and cultural engagement.”

The Putnam County Public Library has served our community for over a century by providing free and equitable access to information, facilitating cultural and educational experiences, and emphasizing the importance of literacy for all. Each and every day, a steady stream of library patrons passes through our doors in search of everything from knowledge, entertainment, and fun to peace, respite, and the comfort of being surrounded by books.

While many aspects of daily library operations are funded by tax dollars, the vast majority of our unique programs and services are funded by donations from generous patrons like you.

Our Goals

As part of our focus on endowment building, the Putnam County Public Library is asking for your help in funding these and other services by encouraging you to make a donation through the Putnam County Community Foundation.

By giving through the Foundation, you have the option to specify how you'd like to see your money used, and every dollar you give goes directly toward a program or service that makes PCPL special to so many in this community.

If you prefer to give directly, you can also make a monetary donation to one of our gift funds through the library itself. Also, consider becoming a member of the Friends of the Putnam County Public Library. Your membership dues go directly to fund library programs, staff development, and services like Imagination Library.

Please consider supporting the Putnam County Public Library with a donation to one of our existing endowments or gift funds. And on behalf of the staff and board of PCPL, we thank you!

Your donation will provide

Support for our Local History and Genealogy Department, which provides online genealogy resources and primary source preservation for research and beyond.

Materials delivery and outreach programming for local schools, organizations, families, and individuals.

The ability to maintain and enhance our physical building and its facilities through renovations and expansions.

Technology support for the community via classes and our Community Help Desk program.

General interest programs and events that attract a wide array of participants and make the library a vibrant community center.
